

THE SUMMER RESORTS

GOLF AND SAILING AT LENOX.

LENOX, Mass., July 3.—The cool weather this week has been most favorable for outdoor sports. Golf and sailing have been especially popular. The links have been crowded every day, and all the sail boats on the lake have been out constantly. A bevy of young women, which includes Misses Mildred, Caroline and Helen Stokes, and Miss Lila Sloane, can handle a catboat like a veteran boatman. Their boating tops up here in the hills consist of a white duck cycling skirt and shirt waist. They ride their wheels down to the boat club house and then go out for an hour's sail. There is talk of a regatta at the lake in August. The boat club dances will begin next week, and will constitute one of the season's most popular pleasures. At the golf links the new instructor, B. H. Nichols, of Cannes, France, is kept busy giving instruction to many young girls who are summering here. Miss Marion Haven, daughter of George Griswold Haven, plays with good form, and has mastered the use of all the different clubs. Miss Dodge, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dodge, of New York, is also an apt pupil. The Stokes girls, Miss Lulu Barlow, Miss Lila Sloane, Miss Barnes and Miss Stillman, have all handed in some good scores this week. They all dress in white duck skirts, the popular shirt waist, and wear heavy tan calfskin shoes with hob nobs. Two engagements have been announced this season, and a quiet fall wedding is in prospect. The first engagement is that of Mr. Frederick Hartman, a son of Mrs. Frederick Hartman, of New York, and a brother of Mrs. Budd, to Miss Nannie Hitchcock, a daughter of Mr. Roswell D. Hitchcock and a granddaughter of the president of the Union Theological Seminary. Mrs. Hitchcock and her daughter, who spent last summer at Bar Harbor and part of last winter in New York, came to Lenox in May to spend the season. It is probable that the wedding will take place in New York next spring. The later announcement is the engagement of Miss Lulu Barlow, daughter of Mrs. Francis C. Barlow, of New York, to Mr. P. J. Jay, a Harvard man, who was recently graduated. Mr. Jay is a member of the Jay family of New York. The wedding will most probably take place in September, and will be a quiet affair, the Barlow family being in mourning.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Phelps Stokes and family left Thursday for Paul Smith's, in the Adirondacks, where they will open their big camp. This will be the first time in two years that they have visited the Adirondacks. They will return in August for the subscription dances and golf tournament, which mark the climax of the Lenox season. Mrs. Frederick Nelson, of New York, is very delightfully located here, where she takes an interest in and part in everything that is going on. Only a few years ago the coachmen employed at the different places gave a ball, and that lady surprised every one by opening the dance with her coachman. That's a way she has. Mrs. Nelson's daughter, Mrs. Arthur Kemp, who is at Newport, will spend a month here this autumn.

John E. Parsons, the Sugar Trust lawyer, who has a large estate, Stoneover, here, has opened St. Helen's home in Newfville for the accommodation of New York "fresh air" children. There are now 100 children there; fifty come and go every week during the summer giving each one a vacation of two weeks.

Miss Clementine Furness, of New York, who, with her sister, Miss Sophia, received $50,000.00 from the estate of their late father, has opened their Edgemore place. Miss Furness gave a dinner Wednesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Grand Foster.

William Sloane, son of John Sloane, has entertained the heads of the departments of the carpet firm of J. & W. Sloane, New York, at Wyndhurst this week. Mr. Frank K. Sturges, of New York, who is spending the summer at Clifton Grange, left Tuesday for New York, where he joined a yachting party for a cruise along the shore to Old Orchard Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Sturges gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Grand Foster Sunday evening.

Mrs. Francis C. Barlow, of New York, has been elected president of the Lenox Association. Miss Emily Biddle and Miss Mary Parsons were elected to the Board of Directors. In place of Mrs. Frank K. Sturges and Mrs. George Griswold Haven. A large number of new members have been elected to the association, including Baron Thielmann, the German Ambassador; Senator Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish Minister; John Sloane, Grand Foster, John B. Alexander, Mrs. Belle Nelson, Mrs. A. C. Kingsland and Miss Emily Biddle.

Lenox continues to be a popular summer home for diplomats. The latest to arrive is Baron von Reichenau, of the German Legation, who has leased the Newton cottage. The Ford farm, one of the finest buildings since near Lake Mahkennec, overlooking the Stokes, Bartley and Bristed places, has been sold to I. J. Newton, a land agent, for $28,000. Two years ago, when Cornelius Vanderbilt was here, he looked at the property, and it is said, made an offer for it. The sale to the land agent has given rise to a rumor that Mr. Vanderbilt is the purchaser of the place.

The Antler Lodge, on October Mountain, has been put in readiness for the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney from Newport. The Sloanes will entertain for Mr. and Mrs. Whitney while they are in Lenox.

Mr. and Mrs. James Abercrombie Burden, Jr., of New York, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglass Sloane at "Elm Court." Mrs. B. Barnes, of New York, has been elected senior warden of the Trinity Episcopal Church, to succeed the late Richard L. man. Trinity Church has received two costly memorial gifts from George H. Morgan, of New York, in memory of his wife, who died in Christland last year. He gives a beautiful memorial window by Tiffany, called "Benevolence," and a set of chimes. Miss Adele Kneeland has opened her place, "Fair Haven," on Stockbridge street. Grand Foster and family, who have returned from abroad, are domiciled at the Eddy cottage. The Fosters are being largely entertained by the cottagers. The new marble residence now building on the Lenox road for Mr. Foster is progressing well and will be enclosed before cold weather.

Charles Lanier, the New York banker, has returned from abroad and is at his country place, "Allen Winden."

Courtland Bishop, of Madison avenue, New York, called Wednesday from New York for Europe, where he will spend the summer in travel.

IT'S ALL GOLF AT GREENWICH.

Greenwich, Conn., July 3.—These are the caddies' busy days, and the golf players all have on their thinking caps. This is because the Fairfield County Golf Club will play the final game in the handicap tournament on the club's links on Electric Hill.

The new nine-hole course covering a distance of one and one-half miles is an increase of a quarter of a mile over the former course. There has been a change in the teeing ground, putting greens and bunkers, which will, no doubt, be appreciated.

White Lake, N. Y., July 3.—Summer guests do not come to White Lake until they can feel assured that the last changeable Spring day has gone and left in its stead the settled weather of Summer. For that reason the numerous hotels have only recently opened their doors, and the season cannot fairly be said to have begun at White Lake. But this fact does not signify that the summer will be dull here. On the contrary, preparations are being made for a much larger number of guests than usual. ## WEST POINT GOSSIP.

"Bed Making Club" Formed to Help Unsophisticated Cadets Do Chamberwork.

West Point, July 3.—"And is this Filatation Walk that I have heard so much about," exclaimed a pretty girl still in her teens, who, with a white-crowned cadet, wandered slowly through the windings of Lower Lane late yesterday afternoon. There was just a slight tinge of disappointment in the musical young voice, which showed that a much more romantic spot existed in her imagination. A little later, when her escort showed her the nook where engagements are made and rows sealed, she was delighted. Last summer ten engagements were the result of meandering through the walk "too wide for one; not wide enough for three."

The hop season has begun, and three times a week the large halls in the Academic Building are crowded with pretty girls and handsome cadets.

The fact that three young candidates resigned their appointments because they had to make their own beds in barracks was a topic of interest at the hotels. At Craney's a bed-making club was formed, and the secretary was instructed to ask permission of Colonel Ernst to make candidates' beds who had not been accustomed to do that kind of work at home. The secretary will submit a permit in the usual form, but it is expected that it will be returned disapproved. Should it be granted, there will not be rooms enough at the hotels for the number of young ladies who will rush to West Point to join the Cadet Bed-Making Club.

Colonel Samuel M. Mills and family have sailed for Europe. Colonel Mills was relieved by Colonel Otto Helm. J. Pierpont Morgan paid a flying visit to his home here a few days ago. He was clad from head to foot in "reporter proof armor." Among the arrivals here during the week are Mrs. General G. K. Warren, Newport; Mrs. Colonel Sanger and Miss Sanger, Colonel O. Rein, Mrs. A. Van Nest, Miss Van Nest, Mrs. Ben All Haggis, Mrs. J. N. Du Barry, Miss Keene, Miss Roosevelt, Miss Lefferts, Mrs. and Miss Hoffman and Colonel Edmunson.
